

Software Solutions

Medirex delivers document solutions through the life cycle of a record, document or file. We provide an integrated approach to consolidating all of these parts of the cycle for a complete Information and Document Management System.

Our expertise with forms and records management has identified that the elimination of paperwork can be accomplished with a group of electronic tools. These tools allow for the routing or printing of electronic forms and records throughout the organization. There are issues of multi-protocol printer connectivity when networking, however Medirex is an integrator of the best of breed products for electronic forms and "middleware". The full Medirex portfolio represents the best of breed products in the healthcare industry today. These products integrate seamlessly with a variety of health information and business software systems.
